WHAT MAKES THIS PROGRAM SPECIAL?

Truman Spanish grads work across the U.S. and abroad in education, nonprofits, healthcare, business, and public service. Bilingual professionals typically earn more, and our students frequently win prestigious awards like Fulbright and NALCAP. Many study abroad more than once, building intercultural competency and career confidence.

You won't just study Spanish, you'll live it. From study abroad to student research and language immersion, this program prepares you to thrive across borders, cultures, and careers.

AFTER GRADUATION:

Our alumni work in K-12 and higher education, join the Peace Corps, earn grad degrees, and lead in nonprofit, government, and business roles, both in the U.S. and around the world.
