Welcome to Truman!

We know transitioning to college is important. That's why we require students to live on-campus their first year. Your next big step is to make arrangements for on-campus housing! No matter where you live at Truman, you are going to learn a great deal about yourself and connect with a diverse group of people. Through these connections you'll develop friendships that will contribute to your personal and academic success!

Truman's residence hall options are as diverse as the students living within them. Our various living environments are designed to help you become connected to members of the Truman community by offering a comfortable, fun, and intellectually engaging experience.

In this booklet you'll find information about the halls and the services they offer, but you'll find even more information on our website. Our website is packed with details, including building and room photos, information about how to get involved in the residence halls, what to bring (and what not to bring!), and much more!
